

THINKING ABOUT A CAREER IN HEALTH CARE?

YOU'RE INVITED TO A SENIOR SUNDAY AT UPSTATE

SUNY Upstate Medical University offers tours on Sunday mornings to high school seniors and select juniors who are interested in exploring careers in health care.

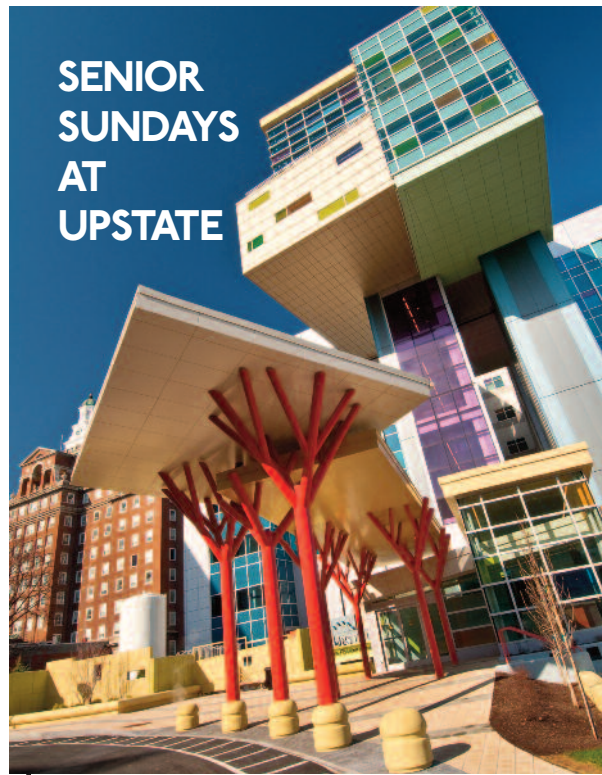

The tours, which start at 10 a.m. most Sundays, offer a chance to see what happens "behind the scenes" at Upstate University Hospital so students can better understand the variety of careers available in health care.

Tours include a visit to a nearby maternity center and neonatal intensive care unit, and to the Upstate Golisano Children's Hospital Pediatric Emergency Department, Radiology Department and, time permitting, other units at Upstate University Hospital's downtown campus.

To sign up for Senior Sundays at Upstate, see your high school guidance counselor, or visit upstate.edu/seniorsundays

Hospital tours for high school students interested in health care careers begin and end at the security desk at the Upstate Golisano Children's Hospital entrance, One Children's Circle (at Irving Ave. between Harrison St. and Crouse Hospital).

Students should arrive by 9:45 a.m. on Sunday, dressed appropriately (closed-toed shoes) and ready to learn.

Parents are welcome to wait in the lobby or can return at 11 a.m. when the tour is scheduled to finish.
